

Course Description – Curriculum 2013

Subject: IS451 Information System Security and Control

Credits: 3

Prerequisite: IS201

Description: Study the importance of security in information systems, ideas in management of security of information system, the analysis and risk assessment of the information system, the controls of computer center, computer system, network, information. In addition, students will learn IT standard, law and ethics.